UNIVERSITY OF JERUSALEM

The history of Israel is a history of miracles—from the parting of the Red Sea, to the wonderful works of Jesus in Galilee. But one of the most exciting miracles is taking place today.

After 2,000 years, the Biblical language of Hebrew has come back to life—on streets and beaches, at markets and restaurants, on televisions and radios—in the reborn State of Israel.

The revival of Hebrew as a spoken language is a fascinating chapter of modern history, interwoven with the return of the Jewish people to the Land of Israel from every corner of the earth—a remarkable fulfillment of Biblical prophecy that began just over a century ago.

As this ancient tongue tirelessly evolves, absorbing all aspects of modern life into its millennial-old vocabulary, the Hebrew University of Jerusalem offers you the opportunity to be part of the story—and part of Biblical history itself:

- Learn to recognize the same Hebrew letters carved by the finger of God onto the tablets of the Ten Commandments.
- Read the same Hebrew words used by King David when he penned the Psalms, or by the ancient prophets as they inscribed the books of Genesis or Isaiah.
- Hear the language spoken fluently and pronounced accurately by its native speakers—the residents of modern Israel—for the first time in 2,000 years.

Experience the extraordinary history of Israel as it unfolds.
